

Another Place, Another Time

Chapter 1

It was Monday, September, 7, 2155 at Saint John's Middle School and Kelly, Jesse, Rick, and Jake were attending their first day at the school. They were all extremely nervous. "What if people don't like us" said Kelly "or what will this school be like" guessed Rick. But then a loud robotic voice interrupted their thoughts "please come inside students" it said. Then very suddenly the doors swung open. All the students filed inside and the four friends shuffled inside timidly behind them. Their plan was to stick together as much as possible just like they always had. Slowly they wandered to the class room that was marked Home Room and underneath it said Grade 7s. They all sat down together. After about five minutes a teacher arrived she said "good morning class my name is Ms. Woleski and I am your home room teacher and I am also one of the only non-robotic teacher". "Afterwards you will be heading to the Social Studies class room which is right down the hall". A few minutes later the bell rang once more and the friends did as they were told and went down to the Social Studies Room. When they got there a robotic teacher greeted them and said "please sit down students". Once again they all sat down together. "Now for your first assignment" the whole class gasped an assignment on the first day of school this was very peculiar the whole class thought. "The robot started talking again now the assignment is to go to a different country in a different year and then write a 500 word essay about your visit and you will work in groups of four". The friends exchanged glances which mean lets work together they were all very excited.

The rest of the day went by in a blur from all their excitement. But they did not know what country they wanted to go to yet or what time they wanted to go at.

Chapter 2

After a day or two they figured that they would go to England in the year of 1862 and use the local transporting machine to get there. They were going to go in exactly three days. The next three days passed very slowly because the four friends were far too excited about their adventure. The day finally came and they all went to the local portal together. They set the year to 1862 and the place to England. Slowly one by one the four friends walked through the portal and were rapidly sucked deeper and deeper at least that's what it felt like they were actually being sucked into a different world of the past. Very suddenly they landed in a whole different world. All of them looked at each other and all started laughing "Our clothes look ridiculous" exclaimed Kelly "no kidding" said Rick. Then they all started laughing their bright neon and very colourful clothes had been replaced with grey frocks for the girls and navy blue trousers and sailor hats for the boys.

Chapter 3

After they were done laughing about their outfits the friends set off to find people who they could question. They started walking and looking around to see if anyone was around, there wasn't a soul but they could see a beach near by and they decided to take a look down by the water.

"Race you to the beach" said Rick and they all set off in a mad dash to the water. Kelly got there first which was surprising because Jake had always been the fastest, next came Rick and then Jesse but Jake was nowhere in sight. The friends frantically searched for their friend but as hard as they searched they could not find him. "Why don't we check where we started running" suggested Rick "okay" answered Jesse. So the three friends started walking up the hills they had just run down and started looking there "where did he go he can't just disappear into thin air can he" asked Kelly "I don't know" answered Rick "maybe we should just sleep on the beach it's getting really dark" the two girls nodded in agreement so they headed back down to the shore Jake was still nowhere to be seen. So the friends dozed off into a deep sleep.

It was about 3 a.m. in the morning when a started Rick woke "AHHHHHHHHH!" he screamed for there was a man standing over top of him "who are you" said the man "what are you doing on my beach" "um, um me and my friends are just here taking a look around" Rick mumbled quietly. The two girls were starting to stir then Kelly sat up "what's all the commotion about" she yawned then she saw the outline of the man in the dark "Jake is that you" she asked "what are you doing here" "who is this Jake boy you speak of I am Jon live in a forest far from here I have came here to fish" said the man. "Do you know where our friend might be" asked Rick "your friend?" said Jon "he could have gone across the water in search of the treasure because if there was an answer he would find it there" "the treasure? The answer" said Jesse who had finally woke up "what are those things" Oh you don't now about the treasure it is in a castle across the water and it is known to draw humans to it" said Jon "maybe we should look over by the castle then" suggested Rick "maybe" said Kelly. So the three friends set off without the man. The man did tell them to go to the train in the fog though so that is what they did. They searched down the shore until they came across a train track that crossed the water. It had a white flag that acted as a sail and a little buggy to sit in as they crossed the water. "I guess this our ride" said Jesse and they all piled into the small buggy. Slowly it started to move across the ocean then it started to gain speed moving smoothly across the train track. About fifteen minutes later they reached the other side. They could see a castle in the mist. "Should we go in there" said Kelly it was a very old looking castle with broken windows and dirty walls "I think we have to" Rick said "if we want to find Jake then we our going in" "okay" groaned Kelly. So they followed a path to the mysterious castle.

Chapter 4

When they reached the door they saw a big brass knocker that was in the shape of a lions head "who want to knock" said Jesse "I don't" said Rick "neither do I" said Kelly "Fine I'll do" groaned Jesse. She took a deep breath and slowly knocked on the door there was no answer "should we just go in" said Rick "I guess so" replied Kelly. Carefully and quietly Rick opened the door to reveal a large stony entrance way with small windows. As Rick stepped inside the floor made a horrible squeaking sound and in surprise he jumped back both girl had their hands over their ears "what was that" said Kelly "I don't know" answered Rick "this is scary" said Jesse nervously "we still have to look for Jake though" said Rick. So they went inside.

There were many doors and the floor was covered in what looked like red shoe prints "eww" cried Jesse "what is that" "I think that's blood" said Rick. They looked around the huge room some more and noticed about twelve doors "which one should we look in first" said Kelly "how about that one" said Rick pointing to a door "okay we will try that one" said Kelly. They headed over to a door in the corner, opened the door and went inside. They found themselves in a bright pink room that had green star all over the walls "wow cool" said Jesse who loved pink "ewwwwww this room is ugly" exclaimed Rick "lets try a different room" suggested Kelly "ya" said Rick. They went out of the pink room and into the room next door to it. The next room was much different then the one they had just come from it was a circular room and the walls were a boring white colour "lets go to the next room" said Rick "okay" replied Jesse and they left the tedious looking room. They went on to the next room and the next but there was still no sign of Jake "I'm tired" yawned Kelly they had been to all the rooms except for three of the room on the left side of the room "lets try one last room" said Rick and that's what they did. They went over to one of the doors and opened it inside it was dark except for a faint glow of light in the corner of the room

"what is that" said Jesse squinting at the glow "lets look" said Kelly she slowly went over to the glow and there sitting on what looked like a box was Jake "Jake" cried Kelly "where have you been we have been looking all over for you we have looked everywhere and what are you doing here anyway" " I have been looking for the treasure and I found it" said Jake quietly "so you have been here all this time?" said Jesse "yes" "do you want to go home then?" said Rick "yes" Jake said again "then lets go" said Kelly pulling Jake to his feet "But I can't leave the treasure said Jake "where is the treasure then" said Kelly "in that box" said Jake pointing to the box he was sitting on. Jake started to walk away "Jake where are you going?" asked Jesse he turned around and said "back home of course" "are you hypnotized or something you're are really acting weird" said Kelly "no" said Jake said quietly "okay lets go home then" said Rick and so Kelly and Rick picked up the treasure and Jesse helped Jake walk. Then they all headed out the door. They went out the door back to the buggy on the train track and hopped in slowly the buggy started to move then it started to gain speed and fifteen minutes later they were on the other side they went back to the time portal and set the time to 2155 in Vancouver, British Columbia and they all jumped in. They were swallowed into a spinning vortex and then they landed back in Vancouver.

Chapter 5

They went back to there school the next day and handed in there paper in to the teacher the teacher said there paper were wonderful and they should be very proud of themselves. About half an hour later a man rushed in and said "I need to take this teacher away he has been programmed much to fast and we are taking him away for fixing” the man picked up the robotic teacher and left. That was weird said the friends and then they all started laughing